

Biting Policy

This policy has been written following the guidance from Surrey Early Years and Childcare Services.

At Flying Start Pre-school, we understand that biting among children can occur and it can be a concern for staff and parents/carers. We also understand that biting can be frightening for the child who has been bitten. It can also be frightening for the child who bites, because it upsets the other child and they may be worried about the reaction of adults. Biting can happen for many different reasons and under different circumstances. It is important to give careful consideration to why a child is biting others.

This policy should be used effectively in partnership with the behaviour policy and procedures. The Behaviour Policy and all other policies are available for staff and parents from school and on our website: www.flyingstartmolesey.com

Children may bite for the follow reasons:

Exploration – Some children may bite when they are exploring something new and may not understand the difference between chewing a toy to chewing a person. Young children learn through touching, smelling, listening and tasting objects.

Sensory Needs – Young children who are teething may bite as they may be suffering from sore gums and may only relieve the discomfort by chewing on an object or person. Some may be seeking sensory input or they may have been over-stimulated or excited.

Cause and Effect – From around 12 months old, children begin to understand cause and effect. For example if they drop an object on the floor it will make a loud noise and if they bite someone, they get a response. We recognise that all children are unique and will develop at different rates.

Attention – Children may bite to gain attention. Biting can be a quick way to get attention, even if it is negative.

Imitation – Children often enjoy imitating their peers and if they see them bite, they may decide to try it out too.

Independence – Children can sometimes bite to gain control. For example if they want a toy or for someone to move, they may bite to get their desired result.

Frustration – Children may bite when they are frustrated. For example, if they are unable to express their feelings or thoughts through words. It may be in response to something that has just happened

Stress – A child may bite when they feel stressed and are unable to express how they feel, for example if they have moved house or are starting Nursery for the first time.

If a child is bitten

If a child bites another child in the setting, staff will separate the children, comfort the child who has been bitten and call another member of staff to check if first aid is required.

For the child that has been bitten:

- Staff will comfort the child and ask them what happened.
- Staff will check the area and wash with clean water and cotton wool. A cold compress will be applied to help with the swelling. First aid will be administered if needed. If necessary, staff may need to seek medical advice. In extreme cases the child may need to be sent home.
- The staff member who dealt with the situation will complete an accident report.
- Parents/carers of the children involved will be informed.

For the child that has bitten:

- Check the child has not been injured themselves.
- Staff member will explain age appropriately to the child who has bitten, that biting is unacceptable. They will follow the school's behaviour policy and procedures. • Staff will take time to explain how their peer may be feeling. This may require drawings, books or talking. It may be appropriate to follow up with class or group circle time.
- "Oh dear, biting really hurts."/"Can you see the mark you have made on....."/"We do not bite our friends."/"You have madecry."
- The child will be asked to say sorry and their play redirected.
- The staff member who dealt with the situation will complete an accident report.
- Parents/carers of the children involved will be informed.

After a biting incident has taken place, staff should discuss the following questions to ascertain the best solution or strategy.

- Who was involved?
- What happened before or after?
- How was the situation handled?
- When did the biting happen?
- Where did it happen?

If a child continually bites, a meeting will be held with the staff team to discuss appropriate and consistent behavioural techniques. The child's parents/carers will be invited in to the setting to discuss strategies and explain how the behaviour is dealt with in the setting.

Strategies may include:

- Behaviour Plan put in place.
- Additional adult support that will be reviewed on a regular basis.
- Individual or group work with the child to find strategies to use instead of biting. • Use of visual symbols, feelings chart or emotion symbols.
