

Dear Parents/Carers,

I can't quite believe we only have 2 more weeks left of the term before we break for Christmas. A huge thank you to Santi and Ariya's mums who came into preschool this week and helped the children make salt dough Christmas Tree Decorations. Next week we start our Winter and Christmas theme, which is all very exciting! This week has been linked to one of our favourite stories, "The Crocodile Who Didn't Like Water." There has been lots of messy and imaginative play with the crocodiles and the children thought about what the dragons might say and some children made marks in the speech bubbles. At circle time the children discussed how the crocodile felt scared at moments in the story and then they shared moments when they might feel scared. You can see all the lovely activities through the week on our social media.

Thank you for your Children In Need donations we raised £55!

I love Christmas adverts! I think this year's John Lewis advert is probably one of my favourites. But I absolutely LOVE the John Lewis advert from 2011. Please follow the link and watch it until the end.
